PREFACE

We herewith present the first Year Book of the Church of the Nazarene. The need of a Year Book had long been apparent to all who had to do with denominational-wide enterprises, and the issuing of such a book had been the subject of frequent discussions and conferences but the evident cost and size of such books caused us to hesitate about launching the project. But there came to our attention a Year Book issued by a sister church which was of such modest proportions that we were convinced of the possibility and we entered upon the task at once. The matter has been collected in much haste but we feel that it will prove interesting to all our people. The information furnished should be valuable to both laity and ministry, and doubly so in view of the coming General Assembly. This book should be widely circulated. Send copies to your friends.

During the present year we desire to collect much valuable material and in order to do so will welcome any suggestions for improvements. Should the annual publication of the Year Book be continued the next volume would be doubly valuable as it would necessarily contain any new policies adopted by the General Assembly and the various institutions of the Church.

We trust for your cordial reception of the Year Book of 1923.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

BRIEF HISTORY

Near the close of the nineteenth century a movement for the spread and conservation of scriptural holiness, corresponding somewhat to that historically known as the Wesleyan revival of the previous century, developed almost simultaneously in various part of the United States, everywhere with a spontaneous drawing in the unity of the Spirit toward closer affiliation of those of like precious faith, and finally culminating in the organization of the Pentecostal Church of the Nazarene.

The great impulse of this movement has been the emphasis placed by the Scriptures upon the fact that in the atonement Jesus has made provision not only to save men from their sins, but also to cleanse from all sin and perfect them in love.

In October, 1907, the bodies known as the Association of Pentecostal Churches of America in the eastern part of the United States, and the Church of the Nazarene in the western part held a joint meeting in Chicago, Illinois, when they united in the organization of the Pentecostal Church of the Nazarene. In October, 1908, the Holiness Church of Christ of the South; in February, 1915, the Pentecostal Mission Churches of the Southeast; and in November, 1915, the Pentecostal Church of Scotland and England also united with the Pentecostal Church of the Nazarene. At the General Assembly in 1919 the word "Pentecostal" was dropped and the official name became the "CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE."

WHAT IS IT?

The real product of the church of God is holy manhood. If men and women are not saved and sanctified, all is in vain. That money is raised and machinery run, and that people are busy, is nothing more than is attained in these days in club and lodge life. That educational and cultural influences and social life are advanced is nothing more than is done by worldly institutions. The question is, "Are men and women born again and baptized with the Holy Ghost?" When this is not the case, there is no real church—the called out—of God. If there are only forms and ceremonies and ritual, there is no more real life than in the clothes of a dead man or woman.

This is the test which we desire all men to apply to the Church of the Nazarene.

First, it entered an open door. It did not seek the rich. It remembered the Master's words: "How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God." It has been found that few, very few, rich men and women will pay the price, and give all to follow Jesus. Some "go away sorrowful," but they usually go away. These Nazarene people heard Jesus say in evidence of His own Messiahship, "The poor have the gospel preached to them." They saw that there was a multitude of people trying to maintain homes, who were often in affliction and distress, who needed sympathy, and often help, whom it was possible to serve, and that their hearts could be opened to the message of infinite love, and they could be gathered to the arms of Jesus: to these people they went.

Second, they preached a gospel of full salvation. They recognized that so many of the churches have fallen, and are falling, into worldliness because of the lack of that second definite work of grace known as entire sanctification; they knew that there is a grace for justified souls wherein they may stand and rejoice in hope of the glory of God; they knew that it is the privilege and duty of all Christians to walk in the light and prove the power of the blood of Jesus Christ to cleanse from all sin; they felt so deeply that they must bear these truths to men and create centers where the fire of Pentecost should burn with such perpetual intensity that men and women would be saved and preserved blameless: they were ready to abandon all for this high and holy purpose.

They were convinced that the dispensational truth—that which makes this a dispensation—is, that Jesus Christ baptizes with the Holy Ghost, cleansing human hearts and enduing them with power for testimony. With these convictions, and by the impulse of the Holy Spirit, they went forth, "in the fulness of the blessing of Christ," to preach and witness to men.

Like the mustard seed in the parable, there were small beginnings: a few men and women, standing together with holy awe and sacred thanksgiving unto Him wh-had called them to be partakers of His holiness, and covenanting that they would preach and testify this gospel of perfect love to all men as they had opportunity, and seek to win souls for Jesus Christ. There were a few small churches in the East which united together, and a little band at Los Angeles near the western sea. And some seeds had fallen in the sunny Southland, wide spread, which began to spring up in the valleys and on the prairies. The work steadily grew until the branches, reaching forth every way, interlocked from East, and West, and South, in the center of the nation. Thousands of people were converted and sanctified, and they who were not a people became a people.

WHAT DOES IT BELIEVE?

The Church of the Nazarene stands for apostolic purity of doctrine, primitive simplicity of worship and pentecostal power in experience. The dispensational truth being, that Jesus Christ baptizes believers with the Holy Ghost, cleansing them from all sin, and empowering them to witness the grace of God to men, this church stands especially for this truth and this experience. We recognize that the right and privilege of men to church membership rests upon the fact of their being regenerate; and would require only such statements of belief as are essential to Christian experience, and the maintenance of that condition. Whatever is not essential to life in Jesus Christ may be left to individual liberty of Christian thought. That which is essential to Christian life lies at the very basis of their associated life and fellowship in the church, and there can be no failure to believe this without forfeiting Christian life itself, and thus the right of all church affiliation.

While emphasizing the baptism with the Holy Ghost as a second experience of divine grace, we do not set aside, but emphasize the great cardinal doctrines of Christianity. We believe:

1. In one God—The Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.

2. In the divine inspiration of the Old and New Testament Scriptures, and that they contain all truth necessary to faith and Christian living.

3. That man is born with a fallen nature, and is, therefore, inclined to evil, and that continually.

4. That the finally impenitent are hopelessly and eternally lost.

5. That the atonement through Christ is for the whole human race; and that whosoever repents and believes on the Lord Jesus Christ is justified and regenerated and saved from the dominion of sin.

6. That believers are to be sanctified wholly, subsequent to conversion, through faith in the Lord Jesus Christ.

7. That the Holy Spirit bears witness to the new birth, and also to the entire sanctification of believers.

8. In the return of our Lord, in the resurrection of the dead, and in the final judgment.

This church regards that its work is more especially to preach the gospel to the poor and to organize people into church life, where holiness unto the Lord shall have full right of way. With malice toward none and love for all, it lifts the cross in the full meaning of the words: "If we walk in the light as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son, cleanseth us from all sin." "This is the will of God even your sanctification."

ORGANIZATION

The ecclesiastical organization is representative, thus avoiding the extremes of episcopacy on the one hand, and unlimited congregationalism on the other. It is symmetrically organized, having a General Assembly which meets every four years, and elects general superintendents and general boards; forty districts which hold annual assemblies and elect district superintendents and district boards, license and ordain ministers, commission evangelists. The local congregation is in charge of regularly elected pastors. The Church is intensely evangelistic at home and missionary abroad.

THE GENERAL SUPERINTENDENTS

The work of the General Superintendents is so universal throughout the entire church as to make a report almost impossible without taking up the progress of the work covering all the districts. As this would be impracticable at this time we can only mention the progress of the church in a general way.

We believe the last year will show a healthy growth along all lines of activity. Our people generally are filled with evangelistic fervor, and revival campaigns have been planned in the larger cities of the land. Our evangelists are loyal to the churches and in their efforts have succeeded in assisting the pastors to secure many additions to the membership in a large number of places. Our heroic pastors have stood loyally by the general interests of the church in raising money to carry on the work. Although we have been passing through a financial depression this last year, nevertheless our people have been hopeful and triumphant, and filled with vision for our great cause.

Nearly all our larger districts have had a remarkable increase in numbers. One district added nearly seven hundred, another nearly four hundred. Our smaller districts need help in pushing the work into the larger cities. The Home Board has made an effort to interest our people in such an effort. However, our larger districts are so interested in carrying forward the work in their own states it has been difficult to get their attention on the great needs of the smaller struggling districts crying for help. Yet something has been done, and a few of the weaker districts have awakened to new life and will soon become self-supporting.

There is a beautiful spirit of unity throughout the church and the outlook was never better for the movement. Truly the Church of the Nazarene was born none too soon to meet the demands of the times. Calls are coming from all parts of the country for the church, for revivals, for the old paths which our fathers trod. Our message is full of revival fire, and the common people will hear us gladly as they did the message of the Great Nazarene of other days. The Church of the Nazarene stands out in the eyes of the world as a revival force. Then we must have revivals. Our people everywhere must realize the importance of the hour, and move up into the life of holy passion for the lost. Then down in the depths of deeper humility, weep and pray, until revivals fill the land.

The General Superintendents have continued their incessant travels throughout the year, covering from twenty-five thousand to thirty-five thousand miles in their personal efforts. Holding hundreds of religious services scattered in nearly every state in the Union, and one member of our board having held assemblies and successful revival services in China and Japan, we have been graciously preserved from accidents, and have been kept in constant service of the superintendency of the work. We desire to express our unbounded appreciation for the fellowship and kind co-operation of all, which has made the burdens lighter.

OUR SUNDAY SCHOOLS

What is the status of the Sunday school in the Church of the Nazarene? A close examination of its organization and history would lead one to believe that, like Topsy, it "just grewed." We have given the least attention to our Sunday schools, compared to their importance, of any department of our church life. We have no general Sunday school organization, nor have we any person or committee specifically empowered to speak for the church in Sunday school matters. We have no provision for a district Sunday school board or committee to look after district Sunday school interests down through the Assembly year. We have no provision for any Sunday school organization other than the local school and our legal provision for the organization and direction of that school is quite indifferent.

We need more careful and comprehensive legislation relative to the nature and uniformity of the organization of the local Sunday school. We need provision for some sort of district Sunday school board or committee to encourage and direct special efforts to improve the Sunday schools of the district. Most of all we need a general Sunday school board or committee with authority to decide important questions relative to Sunday school matters in general, to choose courses of study or lesson schemes for our Sunday schools, and to secure representation for our church on the International Lesson Committee. The advantages of having some legally constituted body to represent us in matters where united action among all evangelical Christian churches is desirable or necessary are of the utmost value to our future.

We have a large number of good, consecrated Sunday school workers, and, considering our lack of thorough Sunday school organization, and in the absence of specific standards of excellence in teaching and administration in our Sunday schools, they have done admirably. We can not, however, faithfully discharge our duty to God or man until we shall have done our best. To do that we shall have to take a long step in advance and provide intelligent and efficient general direction to our Sunday school interests and provide legislation which will cause the local churches to realize their full responsibility for the religious education of the young and old of the congregation.

We have been so busy making strenuous efforts to reach those who are altogether outside of the church that we have sadly neglected to make adequate provision for the religious education of those who have been placed directly under our care and control. Even in the smaller churches it seems to be comparatively easy to raise large sums to support an evangelistic campaign when it is next to impossible to get a dollar for Sunday school equipment other than the penny (and too often, penurious) collection from the members of the school.

Let us begin a new era in Sunday school work. Let us learn the nature and size of our problem. Then let us face it squarely, and by our united and most prayerful effort, solve it in a manner that will glorify our God and result in the salvation of many more of our Sunday school scholars.

C. J. KINNE.

OUR SUNDAY SCHOOL LITERATURE

Fifteen years ago we started publishing our own Sunday school literature. As a foundation we had two quarterlies, which, with the subscription lists, we purchased from the Pentecostal Publishing Company. We began at once to try to adapt the literature to the needs of our people, and to add new periodicals to the series as rapidly as possible. The financial problem has ever been uppermost, as our constituency was so small that it has been a great undertaking to publish periodicals with such limited circulation and compete with publishers who had many times that circulation.

Notwithstanding these difficulties we now have a fairly complete series of periodicals treating the Uniform Series of lessons provided by the International Lesson Committee. It is gratifying to note that the aggregate circulation of all our Sunday school periodicals is more than ten times what it was fifteen years ago.

That it has been possible to make such a showing is in no small degree due to the generous spirit of the various ones who have prepared the matter for the periodicals for a very small remuneration. Some of these have long since gone to their reward. One and all, the Church owes to them a debt of gratitude.

We have by no means reached our ideal, nor are we really abreast of the times with regard to Sunday school lessons. Many of our Sunday schools are endeavoring to take advanced steps in fitting their teaching more closely to the needs of the various grades in the school. The number of such schools has not become sufficiently large to warrant the publication of a special series of helps, but we believe that it is rapidly nearing that point. The new "Group Graded Series" of lessons now issued by the International Lesson Committee makes it possible for us to begin the publication of graded lesson helps suited to the needs of our people just as soon as our people are willing to provide the little extra expense, and some one is vested with the authority to provide such helps.

Up to the present time our Board of Publication has been the sole authority in the matter of Sunday school literature. That authority was never delegated to it. It has simply acted, of necessity, and because there was no other way provided. Our Sunday school editor is employed by and is under the direction of that board. The number and nature of the periodicals to be published has largely been a question of what was financially possible, rather than of what was needed.

Considering the fact that the Board has met but once a year, and then was forced to give most of its time to the consideration of purely financial matters, it has done remarkably well in providing the church with its Sunday school periodicals.

As we grow larger and spread wider the need becomes more imperative that we have some board or committee whose specific duty it shall be to become responsible for the matter and methods which shall have place in our Sunday school periodicals. That body should be composed of persons who are conversant with the whole field of Sunday school activity, and who can make a special study of our needs and take such steps as are necessary to provide for those needs.

The writer is fully convinced that we should have a Sunday School Board, or Committee, chosen by the General Assembly to become responsible for this work. Such a body could give sufficient time to its work to enable it to act intelligently in deciding upon the merits of lesson schemes, etc. At present no board, committee, or person is authorized by the church to adopt any new series of lessons or make any change in the time-honored customs we have followed because we started that way.

GENERAL BOARD OF EDUCATION

The General Assembly of 1915 elected a General Board of Education and defined its duties to be "To recognize, classify, and by all means to foster such schools of the church as they, in their godly judgment, believe to be expedient; to see that the scholarship in these schools is up to the recognized standard; and to guard against the multiplication of schools, beyond our need or ability to equip and maintain, subject to the approval of the General Assembly."

One of the great problems that has confronted the Board from the beginning has grown out of the fact that our church has undoubtedly fallen heir to more schools than our people are able to equip and maintain. It has not seemed advisable to undertake a general program in the interest of our educational institutions until there could be greater certainty about which of our institutions should finally and permanently survive. Therefore, the Board of Education has confined its efforts largely to a systematic study of the general problem and to a policy of watchful waiting."

Since 1915 when the Board of Education began to function, three schools of our church have ceased to operate under our direction, and, although it was never possible to tell before hand which of our schools should cease, the closing of these three schools has helped to simplify the problem.

At the last annual meeting of the Board it was agreed to ask all our schools to put forth a special effort to pay off their indebtedness before the meeting of the General Assembly in 1923. At the present writing (Dec. 1922) it seems possible that at least three of our schools will succeed in carrying out this request.

The work of our schools during the years has been very commendable. The enrollment in all our schools during the year 1921-22 was approximately 2,000. Of these four hundred were preparing for the ministry and about an equal number for mission work in foreign lands. And the prospects are that the enrollment for the present year will be larger than that of last.

Considering the fact that our hope is to enlarge our work in all departments, and considering the fact that it will require trained workers to make this possible, it would seem that the time is now upon us to turn our attention to our schools and to strengthen and establish them upon a sound and progressive basis.

It is hoped that the General Assembly will give full consideration to our educational work. The Board of Education has warned the schools in time and at the General Assembly we will expect that schools will be judged by their financial condition and other indications of success, and that only such schools as give good evidence of ability to "make good" will be allowed to remain on the list. The General Board believes that the present number of schools is about the correct one and hopes that the eight now on the list will be able to survive. But regardless of the number of schools, we believe that the educational program of our church should be made to embrace the raising of ONE MILLION DOLLARS for equipping and endowing of our schools, and that this program should be adopted by the General Assembly of 1923 and that the one million dollars should be asked for during the succeeding quadrennium.

Without risking comparisons, we do not believe that any informed and thoughtful person will question but that the adoption of a proper program for Christian education is one of the very most important considerations in the policy of our church.

J. B. CHAPMAN, President.

PASADENA UNIVERSITY

We have been invited by General Secretary, Rev. E. J. Fleming, to supply some important facts about our school for the Denominational Year Book. We submit the following:—

I. This is the strategic center—the throbbing heart of our denominational life, and for many reasons. Here is where Dr. P. F. Bresee fought for truth and wrought righteousness—and where the Nazarene movement was born. It is its stronghold today.

II. Its location is ideal. We have seen many universities and centers of learning; but of them all this is beyond compare the most beautiful, and favorable for student life. The majestic sierras towering 6,000 feet in the air only two miles away, and the San Gabriel Valley spread out before us, and just beyond, the ocean in sight of us, and Pasadena, the crown city of the world, at our feet. This January 13, as we write, fruit trees are in blossom on our Campus and un-numbered kinds of flowers and roses, while the mountains any morning may be crowned with snow.

This city is unique for beauty, wealth and healthfulness. More than a hundred girls in our institution support themselves and take their college, academic or musical course. Their average wage is—room and board and $25.00 a month for their service mornings, evenings and Saturdays. A goodly number of girls receive much more. Probably a hundred or more young men are also earning their way. Two get $100 per month. We do not know of another city on earth so favorable to students.

We have over 500 students enrolled this semester, not yet finished, and many more are on the way. There would be a thousand, if the real facts were only known. With an able faculty of over thirty professors and the most careful religious training, along with a high grade secular education, such as is obtained in the best schools, and a continuous opportunity to hear all the great leaders of the movement on our college platform, what more can be desired?

III. Note these additional facts.

1. Two hundred and fifty students preparing for some kind of distinctive Christian work.

2. One hundred students preparing for the mission field.

3. Students from twenty-nine states and twenty-one foreign countries.

4. Twenty-nine religious denominations represented in the student body.

5. About ninety per cent of the student body are Christians.

6. Should not this be THE GREAT SCHOOL of our denomination?

SUGGESTIONS TO THE COMING GENERAL ASSEMBLY FOR OUR EDUCATIONAL WORK

I. There should be one outstanding institution in our church which will give the standard and set the pace for all the schools in our Nazarene movement. All the logic of indisputable facts of location, climatic opportunity and history point to Pasadena University as that school.

II. It should have an endowment adequate to command and retain for life a faculty, able, if necessary, to write their own text books, and defend the truth against all the fashionable infidelity of our time. This institution should be so equipped that it may offer post-graduate work and degrees for especially able and ambitious students, who otherwise will be drawn aside to attend the worldly and infidel schools and be lost from us forever.

III. The leaders of our educational work should have a broad and well defined policy, which at least should include the following points:

1. The consolidation of our institutions in some cases so that they shall be fewer in number and better in quality.

2. No more schools should be allowed and recognized by our denomination for the present nor for years to come. Institutions of higher learning, of collegiate rank, are too important and too expensive to be unduly multiplied.

3. Furthermore, our schools should be very carefully located, in or near population centers where students may find work for self-support.

A. O. HENRICKS, President.

OLIVET COLLEGE

The aim of this institution is two-fold: First, to prepare young men and young women for the responsibilities of the future Church of the Nazarene, in the ministry—at home and abroad—in our schools, and in whatever place educated Christian manhood and womanhood may be needed; Second, to prepare those, who are not called to any special line of work in our church, to live the biggest life possible. To do this one must have the environment during his training that will give him the safest and broadest view of life's possibilities as well as of life's failures.

In order to accomplish our first aim, we are securing for the faculty of our Bible College some of the strongest teachers available in our church. We feel that it will not be possible to make a mistake here. If young ministers would become great preachers, they must come into contact in their training with great preachers and teachers. To realize our second aim, we are securing the strongest faculty possible from an educational point of view, considering always the religious experience of the applicant. We are endeavoring to create an easy, natural, spiritual atmosphere in which they are to work, keeping always in mind that they are young people and should have every consideration in the making of a wholesome environment for their training.

To forward the work of the school as a whole, we are using the very best methods to make our teachers efficient in their respective places. Weekly teachers' meetings are being held each Tuesday afternoon for the discussion of educational problems and for the reviewing of books on that subject. A number of helpful things are being done that have come directly from our discussions. We are endeavoring to rid our school of the inactive, drift-along tendency so prevalent in many schools. We are insisting upon up-to-date teaching methods as well as strong educational requirements. Another purpose in the work we are doing along this line is to make teachers for our schools. We are expecting that a Proper School Spirit shall result.

Plans for the improvement of our campus and the use of other school auxiliaries are being worked out, keeping in mind a strictly conservative financial basis for these things.

This school is to be run without indebtedness, and yet, without sacrificing thoroughness from an educational viewpoint. Our objectives can be realized by the co-operation of the members of the Church of the Nazarene in the Middle West.

If you are looking for a school for yourself or your children, we invite you to consider Olivet College—the school with a future.

N. W. SANFORD, President.

NORTHWEST NAZARENE COLLEGE

Although the Northwest Nazarene College was one of the later institutions to come into existence in our church, yet it has had remarkable growth and has been far-reaching in its influence. A few years ago the sod was broken out in a sagebrush plot when the school was only a "lively hope"; now a number of substantial buildings stand upon the campus.

In the beginning the founders had only in mind to establish a grammar school for the children of the neighborhood who were Nazarenes, but very soon the need for further work was felt, and the academy was added. Then came the call on the part of some students for a college course, so eight years ago this also was included in the curriculum. Now the field of training consists of not only the regular grammar, academy and college courses, but also vocational work along commercial lines and a beginning of manual training; moreover opportunity is offered in the department of music and expression for those who wish to specialize in the arts. Since recently the institution has been accredited by the state, considerable impetus has been given to special study along educational lines, and we trust to have in the near future a teachers' training course with special practice teaching for those who are fitting for this profession.

In looking over what has already been accomplished by the college we note that we have seven of our graduates who are now taking advanced work in Berkeley, California, and another student who has been studying in one of our eastern universities. A considerable number of the former students are teaching, and many of them are preaching the Gospel. Furthermore we have at this time thirteen representatives from our faculty and student body on the foreign field. Of these two are in Central America, three in South America, two in Western India, and two in Eastern India, one in Africa, and three in China. Moreover this month two more of our students sail. They go out under the Mennonite Board and will be located in Nigeria, Central Africa. Consequently we feel that already we have "girdled the globe with salvation," and further that we are represented in the various departments of the church work.

As has been the record of the past students so it is with the present company. The foreign missionary work is well represented in two ways. First by the fact that within the last two years we have had eight returned missionaries studying with us, and second by the various bands representative of the different fields. The work of these bands is carried on with great enthusiasm. Then within the last year or two the interest in home missionary work has been increasing, and now there is a large home missionary band. Under the leadership of Brother Sanner this band has been doing some aggressive work this year. Furthermore because of the number of Canadian students in our midst and the Macedonian cry that has come from that country, we have a Canadian band consisting of those who have come and are going to that field. We are expecting that from these bands young people will go forth to spread holy fire.

Although it is the desire of all connected officially with the institution to give thorough educational training, yet this is not the supreme objective of the college. One of the marked features of the work has been the revival waves that have broken out from year to year. Sometimes it has been in the dining hall, sometimes in the chapel, sometimes in the class room, but always there has been some marked manifestation of the divine presence. Should a year pass without a partial suspension of duties to give ourselves to this one thing, we would count the year as a failure to that extent. We seek not a lessening of the dynamic element that breaks out in spontaneous outburst but that more and more it may open channels through which it may work and express itself, that the Lord our God may be glorified and that "glory may dwell in our land."

Thus with the developments along educational lines, we seek above all to be a bush on fire in the wilderness that needy souls may turn aside to see and find a divine revelation. Catching the spirit of the divine revelation we expect them to go forth and establish other centers of fire around which others may gather and receive the same illumination.

OLIVE M. WINCHESTER.

EASTERN NAZARENE COLLEGE

Eastern Nazarene College is the outgrowth of the Pentecostal Collegiate Institute organized at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., September 25, 1900, by the Educational Committee of the Association of Pentecostal Churches of America. After three years the Institute was moved to the commodious buildings of what was formerly the Lapham Institute of North Scituate, R. I.

On June 14, 1918, the property was deeded to the Board of Trustees elected by the New England, New York, Washington-Philadelphia, and Pittsburgh Districts, thus making it the property of the Church of the Nazarene. In accordance with the recommendation of the District Assemblies the name was formally changed to Eastern Nazarene College. The growth and development of the college demanded larger facilities and the institute was moved to Wollaston, Massachusetts, to the property known as the Quincy Mansion School. The new location has been advantageous in every way. The college is now in a forward movement to secure new buildings to house the increasing number of students who are coming.

The college grounds, eight acres, show the results of many years of cultivation. Noble old trees of many kinds, shrubbery, hedges, and spacious lawns, have been arranged by the skill of the landscape gardener. Tennis courts, croquet grounds, basketball grounds and a gymnasium give abundant opportunity for exercise. The campus is about five minutes walk from the ocean. There are five large buildings. The approximate valuation of buildings and grounds is $120,000.

The faculty consists of about twenty efficient professors and teachers. There are about one hundred and twenty-five students in the academy, college of liberal arts, and Bible college. Students from Eastern Nazarene College are admitted to several of the leading colleges and universities of the East without examination. The college is only seven miles from the center of Boston. This gives students the opportunity of enjoying the best in music, art, and lectures.

The future prospects of Eastern Nazarene College are very bright. Plans are being made for extensive improvements in building, class rooms, and equipment. Nearly half the population of the United States is in the Educational Zone of this institution. This is the only Holiness College in the East.

BETHANY-PENIEL COLLEGE

At the time of the organization of the Church of the Nazarene in the southwest, many schools were turning out infidels instead of believers. The supposedly Christian schools were blasting at the Rock of Ages, the Bible and old-time faith were ridiculed. The only solution to the problem of preparing workers to meet the needs of our church seemed to be the establishment of a holiness college under the control of the Pentecostal Church of the Nazarene.

For the purpose of establishing such an institution, a number of holiness people met in Beulah Heights, a suburb of Oklahoma City, in June 1909. A school known as Beulah Heights College, under the control of the Oklahoma Orphanage had been in operation there for two years. At this meeting those in authority voted to transfer the school, but not the buildings, to the Church of the Nazarene. The school was accepted later by the church. A board of trustees was appointed and the site now known as Bethany, ten miles west of Oklahoma City on the El Reno Interurban car line, was chosen.

The name was changed to Oklahoma Holiness College, and on October 5, 1909, its first term was begun. The school continued under the name of Oklahoma Holiness College and Oklahoma Nazarene College until the year 1920. In that year the board of trustees of Peniel College deemed it wise to discontinue the operation of the school at Peniel, Texas, and voted to unite the school with Oklahoma Nazarene College at Bethany. After this action, the name was changed to Bethany-Peniel College.

Bethany-Peniel College owns a six acre campus, four buildings—an administration building of brick, an auditorium of concrete, and two dormitories which are frame buildings. The assets of Bethany-Peniel are about $60,000 while its liabilities are only about $6,000.

The school has been the means of the salvation of hundreds of souls. It has furnished trained men and women to serve as pastors, evangelists, missionaries at home and abroad. Its enrollment has increased from 122 in 1909 to 325 in 1923. It has secured state affiliation for the grades, for the four years of high school, the normal training high school, and for two years of college work.

It offers the following departments: sub-preparatory—sixth, seventh, and eighth grades; high school—four years; college —four years; theological and missionary training; music—piano, voice, harmony, of music, violin, and wind instruments; expression.

The prospects of Bethany-Peniel College are bright. It is not loaded with debt. It has a loyal constituency, an enthusiastic student body, a progressive board of trustees, a strong faculty of mature men and women, and an efficient business manager. With these blessings, and the presence of the God who has led us thus far as an institution, we have faith and hope for the future of Bethany-Peniel College, and we pray that it may be used to lead many to Christ and to train young people to stand for the old time principles of Bible holiness.

BRESEE THEOLOGICAL COLLEGE

A BRIEF HISTORY

About twenty-five years ago, two women who had moved to Hutchinson, Kansas, from different parts of the state, became acquainted and found they were of kindred Christian spirit. Both wished to do something for their Savior. They were members of different churches. They began to hold regular Tuesday afternoon holiness prayermeetings. This prayermeeting grew in interest, was held in all parts of the city in the homes of both the rich and poor and resulted in the salvation of many. There were three great doctrines constantly kept at the front in these meetings, i. e., holiness, divine healing and the second coming of Jesus. Many remarkable cases of salvation and divine healing are reported to have occurred.

Feeling the need of a greater knowledge of the Bible, there was added to this prayermeeting an afternoon of Bible study where these three great truths were especially studied. Then a third meeting each week was added. The interest continued to grow and the attendance so increased that a room on Main Street was rented and the services held there. In the winter of 1905, a church was organized which is now the Church of the Nazarene.

For some time there had been a growing feeling that a Bible school for the training of Christian workers as well as the helping of others who might desire to attend was needed. One lady caught this vision and was so full of faith that she donated the furniture of a five room house with a good piano to the school that was soon to be. A little later, at a holiness convention, a good man and wife gave $1,000 and made a loan of another $1,000 and the property at 215 E. 4th Avenue, within the very shadows where the first prayermeeting was held, was purchased for a school. A campmeeting was held in the fall, the first of September, 1905, at which time the opening of the school was announced. On October 16, the work was begun with sixteen students enrolled.

From the very first, great blessing was upon the school. More students came and before the year closed there were thirty-five in attendance. This meant an enlargement of the building to accommodate those who wished to attend. The second year the ten room residence was enlarged to a forty room school building with modern conveniences. This served the purpose for the next seven years and then a further enlargement became necessary. At this time the building was enlarged to its present capacity.

The school had not continued long until it became evident that Bible study alone was not a sufficient preparation. In 1910, an Academy course was added to the already strengthened course in Bible and has been maintained with success ever since. This year a college department has been added and the freshman year has been offered. Next year the sophomore work will be offered. Almost from the beginning, music and expression have been considered important, and piano, voice and public speaking have been taught.

Mrs. Mattie Hoke was the Superintendent and President of the school for the first eleven years. She was followed by Wilmot Stone, R. E. Dunham and H. M. Chambers, each of whom served for two years. The present president is E. P. Ellyson, a man of large school experience. The faculty is composed of twelve able teachers of experience. The student registration is 140, practically the limit of our present quarters. These have come to us from sixty towns in twelve different states.

The school began as the Apostolic Holiness Bible School. Soon the word Apostolic was dropped. The fifth year the school became known as the Kansas Holiness Institute. The ninth year a charter was secured under the name of Kansas Holiness College and Bible School. The thirteenth year the school took the name of Nazarene Bible School and Academy without changing the charter. This year the name has been changed to Bresee Theological College and the charter changed accordingly. The school is now the property of the Church of the Nazarene, controlled by a board elected by the Kansas and Nebraska Districts. At the beginning, there seems to have been no thought of anything more than a Bible Institute. The management has never given it any great publicity and but little aggressive effort at enlargement has been made. It has grown of its own accord and has again outgrown its quarters. A more aggressive policy is now being followed and larger things are in view.

Amid all the changes, the same great purpose has been kept in view. Our motto now is "For Christ and the Church," and our purpose the training of church workers both lay and ministerial. We are working true to our name. While we are doing regular literary work, we have arranged the courses of study in both Academy and College with the Christian worker in mind. We have a strong Bible Institute course following the course prescribed for ministers by the church, and we specialize upon this. Music and expression are given an important place. We are different; we are a college, but not so much of Liberal Arts, as Theology, Bible and Church Methods with the Liberal Arts work that is needed to round out such a preparation. Our requirements are the same but some of our subjects are different.

E. P. ELLYSON, President.

TREVECCA COLLEGE

Founded on the basic idea of "A whole Bible for the whole wide world," Trevecca College has for twenty-two years stood true to the fundamentals upon which the supporting pillars of the Church of the Nazarene rest. Standing shoulder to shoulder with other independent movements of a like nature throughout America, Trevecca contributed her full quota toward the spiritual renaissance which gave birth to the Nazarene Church. She is peculiarly fitted to teach these doctrines to our children.

With grounds, buildings and equipment worth $100,000 and only a few thousands of indebtedness; with an enrollment of two hundred and fifty, and the best faculty in her history; with the Assemblies of the Southeastern Zone lining up for the school, and placing Trevecca in their several budgets, we fight on with renewed courage and strengthened faith.

We are among those who believe that our schools will rise or fall together. Co-operation is the word, and not competition. We are always delighted to learn of any forward movement in any of our sister schools, and we take it that they are equally glad to learn of our progress. Any misfortune or backward step on the part of one hurts and discredits us all. "Together we stand, divided we fall."

Trevecca College is not unmindful of the fact that there is much more than a tendency in the world's modern educational program to allow "science" to completely overshadow—if not flatly contradict—the plain, irrefutable teachings of the Bible. Eternity alone will reveal the harm already wrought by this cleverly concealed plan of the enemy.

We believe that the best antidote for this poison is an ever increasing army of spirit-filled science teachers. With this in mind we teach science in its relations to an all-wise, beneficent Creator. Our laboratories reveal God's will and plan for the well-being of the race. We approach the study of science with heads bared and bowed and feet unshod. We teach the students to handle with reverent fingers the elements which God spoke into existence in the beginning, and to stand in awe of the wonderful laws which His omniscience fixed for their government.

Throughout every department the school is run for God, and God's wandering children. Revival fires burn upon our altars the year 'round. While the school willingly and cheerfully strives to meet every demand of "standardization," we dare not abate one iota of spiritual fire and fervor. If forced to choose between "standardization" and spirituality, we unhesitatingly choose spirituality. As we see it, the best interests of our young people demand both.

Trevecca's horizon is big with promise. From every quarter come messages of confidence and promises of assistance. But above all, we have the smiles of Him who can work and none can hinder. Amen and amen.

DR. C. E. HARDY, President.

CENTRAL NAZARENE COLLEGE

Central Nazarene College is located at Hamlin, Jones County, Texas. It was founded in 1910, and is a chartered institution of learning controlled by a Board of Trustees from the Hamlin, San Antonio and New Mexico Districts.

By the deed conveying the land, and also the charter, the school is committed to the doctrine of full salvation, as set forth in the Manual of the Church of the Nazarene. It was the purpose of the founders of this institution to regard the religious life and experience of young men and women of great importance.

Central Nazarene College has a beautiful campus of more than twenty-three acres and adjoins the town of Hamlin, one half mile on the south.

The town of Hamlin, with a population of about 2,500, is located on the M. K. and T., Mexico and Orient, and Abilene and Southern railways. The town lies between the plains and the lowlands of Central and Southern Texas, at an altitude of sixteen hundred feet above sea level. The health conditions are almost ideal and the climate most desirable.

The college owns three buildings. The large administration building is constructed of native gray stone. This building contains class rooms, and a chapel. The girls dormitory is a frame building consisting of twelve rooms, parlor and dining room. The boys dormitory contains sixteen rooms. All the buildings are lighted with electricity and have city water connections.

The Church of the Nazarene has a strong organization at the college, with a membership of about one hundred and twenty-five and a flourishing Sunday school.

Dr. J. E. L. Moore was the first president of Central Nazarene College. He served the school for six years and brought the work from a chaotic condition to a well deserved place among our educational institutions. Rev. W. F. Rutherford and Rev. William Fisher had much to do with the institution in its early days. In the capacities of business manager and field agents, they helped to bring the institution from its early state to a place of proficiency. Both of these men had much to do with the founding of the institution. Rev. J. Walter Hall and Rev. J. C. Henson served as business managers for several years and helped to make the institution what it is today. Rev. Burt Galloway, present Bible instructor of Olivet University, held the place as Acting President for two years and was followed by Prof. E. D. Cornish, as president. Prof. Cornish served for two years. Prof. A. S. London was elected president of the institution in 1920, and has been with the school since that date. The school has enrolled on an average of about two hundred students annually in the past few years. For several years the school has been in an uncertain condition on account of the indebtedness that has been on it since its founding. But recently the local and district constituency has lifted nearly seven thousand dollars of the indebtedness and this gives the institution a basis for future development that it has not had before.

It has been the policy of the present administration to have some of the greatest educators and evangelists to visit the school during the year for lecture courses and revival meetings. Such men as Dr. William Heaps and Dr. Newton Riddell, also Dr. J. D. Sandifer, have been with us; also President Hunt of McMurry College. Among the lecturers and evangelists that have been with us are Dr. D. F. Brooks, Dr. J. B. Chapman, Rev. B. F. Neely, Dr. R. T. Williams, Rev. John Norberry, Rev. Bud Robinson, Rev. C. W. Ruth, Rev. C. S. Nusbaum and Dr. L. P. McCrary.

The property of Central Nazarene College is valued at $50,000. The present indebtedness is about $7,000. $5,000 of this is arranged for, so as to run for three years if the constituency does not see fit to take it up until the expiration of that time. The school has not incurred any new obligations for the past two years and it seems that Central Nazarene College is destined to take her place among the "Favorables" of the colleges of the Church of the Nazarene.

For catalog address the President.

GENERAL BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

Officers and Members

ORGANIZATION

According to the Manual of the Church of the Nazarene all work in foreign fields is under the supervision of the General Board of Foreign Missions. This Board was first incorporated in 1907, and, with a few minor changes in its character, it still exists, conducting its work much along the same line as the original policy provided for. The Board is elected for a period of four years, having representatives from various sections of the United States. The original plan provided that the United States and Canada should be divided into missionary zones and that each zone should be entitled to a certain number of representatives on the Board. This general plan has been carried out during the past years, giving the various sections of the constituency representation on this very important board.

ADMINISTRATION

The administrative affairs of the Board are under the supervision of the Executive Committee, consisting of the officers of the Board and the General Superintendents of the Church of the Nazarene. This Committee meets on the call of the chairman whenever, in his judgment, it seems necessary to have a meeting of the entire Committee. A sub-executive committee, consisting of the President of the Board and the Secretary-Treasurer, have direct charge of administrative affairs and are authorized by an action of the Board taken at their annual meeting held February 1922 to transact business as may be necessary and as in their judgment is consistent with the general policy of the Board. There is only one general officer receiving a salary for his services. This is the Secretary-Treasurer, who gives his entire time to this work.

FIELDS OCCUPIED

During the past few years our foreign missionary work has made wonderful progress. Our entire membership seems to be impressed with the fact that we as a people have been called to preach the gospel to all nations, and from the very beginning the missionary spirit has been very prominent in all of our general and district gatherings. Our schools are centers of great missionary activity, and scores, if not hundreds, of the students in our various institutions feel a divine call to go to the regions beyond with the gospel.

At the present time we have ninety-seven missionaries in active service; two hundred four native preachers and workers. We have more missionaries at home on furlough, all of whom have served faithfully in various fields, and many of them should be returned as soon as finances will permit.

It is estimated that the population of the territory occupied in various mission fields almost exclusively by our missionaries is about ten million souls. We have well established work in Africa, India, China, Japan, Cape Verde Islands, Central America, Argentina, Peru, Mexico, Palestine, and Syria; and we have one faithful missionary laboring at San Pedro, Cuba. However, at this place we do not have any established mission work.

In all of the stations mentioned we have splendid buildings, all out of debt, representing an investment of approximately seventy-five thousand dollars. In Africa and China we have two well equipped hospitals under the supervision of doctors trained and equipped for medical work. In Mexico City we also have a splendid medical work in charge of a doctor who combines his medical work with his ministerial work and is proving a great success.

We believe that the first work of our missionaries is to preach the gospel and if possible accomplish the salvation of the heathen to whom they have been sent to minister. The reports that we are continually receiving are quite remarkable. While we are unable at this writing to give figures as to the number of converts during the past few years, yet we are safe in saying that the number who have been actually saved and added to the church will amount to several thousand. The present membership in the fields where we have a regular church organization is 1,853 full and 699 probationary members.

We also have well established schools, both for children and the training of native preachers and workers, in most of our mission fields. Among our missionaries in active service we have some who are especially qualified to preach and evangelize; others who are fitted especially for the work of teachers; and others who are trained nurses and prepared for dispensary and medical work. In fact, every department of our mission work is in charge of experienced men and women; and in addition to their experience and preparation they have a genuine Christian experience, all of them enjoying the blessing of entire sanctification. The outlook for the work in all of the fields is not only encouraging, but in some fields it would seem that we are on the threshold of a mighty revival.

FINANCES

One of the remarkable features of our missionary work is the fact that we have succeeded in closing every year for the past twelve years without a deficit. The increase in contributions is remarkable. Twelve years ago the total contributions for foreign missions for the entire year was less than twenty thousand dollars. The past year it is something over two hundred thousand dollars. All of our districts, as well as the majority of our churches, have arranged to give systematically to foreign missions. The co-operation on the part of our District Superintendents and our pastors is not only beautiful, but has resulted in increased giving each year until we have established a record that is considered by those who are outside of our denomination as quite remarkable. The devotion of our people to the great cause of foreign missions makes it possible for them to deny themselves in many ways that others would not think of doing in order to be able to contribute. But in addition to all of our system and our sacrifice we feel that the prayers of the people and the burden that many carry for the success of our missionary work is, after all, the real secret for our success both in financial matters as well as in the work on the foreign fields.

THE FUTURE

We have applications from over a hundred young men and women, well educated, enjoying a splendid Christian experience, feeling a divine call to go, and waiting for the opportunity. We could, without any difficulty, add fifty splendid missionaries to our force in addition to those who are on furlough and ready to return. This, however, is not possible, but many are praying that in the near future we will again be able to send some of these called ones to reinforce our ranks, especially in some fields where they are greatly in need of reinforcement. No arrangement will be made to send missionaries until after the General Assembly to be held in September 1923, at which time the church will no doubt adopt some fixed program for the future missionary work of the church. We have everything to encourage us—possibilities without limit—and certainly we can not afford to retrench and ask for an easier way. The millions of earth without Christ, without hope, without the knowledge of a Savior, look to us for some ray of light that will point them to Jesus Christ, the only hope of this lost and ruined world.

E. G. ANDERSON, General-Secretary.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Woman's Missionary Society was organized in the Pentecostal Churches in the East in 1899. Dr. H. F. Reynolds was then General Missionary Secretary and gave the work every encouragement possible. Mrs. Reynolds was one of the charter members and a leading spirit in the work from its beginning. In 1907 the union between the Eastern and Western forces was effected, and at the request of the Western brethren the Woman's Missionary Societies were discontinued. At the General Assembly in 1915 the subject was presented and a memorial sent in requesting the privilege of again resuming the work, which was unanimously passed.

During the next four years several societies were organized, mostly in the East, and at the 1919 General Assembly six district organizations were reported, and all doing good work. But the work had only begun, and great enthusiasm was manifested in the first General Meeting. A General Committee of fourteen women (representing as nearly as possible the missionary divisions of the church) was appointed by the General Board of Foreign Missions; officers were elected, and plans formulated for an aggressive campaign. Several caught the vision, and got a real burden on their hearts, and God's blessing has been marvelously attending the efforts put forth by these and other devoted women called into this work. Reports now began to come in of new Auxiliaries on several districts, followed rapidly by district organizations, both in the West and South. Reports from one year exceeded the four previous; and it was clearly manifested that the God of battles was leading on to certain victory.

Thus far twenty-two districts have been organized and there are several local societies on other districts where we hope to effect district organizations before our next General Assembly. Our precious sisters across the waters have joined hands with us, and some societies are reported from across the border on our Canadian districts. We are also enlisting our Young People for they are not only the hope of the future church, but many from among them must form the recruiting army to supply the foreign fields. So we are forming them into Young People's Societies, and the children into Mission Bands, that they may study the whole field, become acquainted with conditions, needs, etc., and be ready for whatever service the Master may call.

Many of the plans for the future are still in their incipency, but are all leading toward advancement, helpfulness and greater efficiency. We plan to pass out thousands of our splendid missionary tracts, and other literature. We expect to sell annually thousands of Scripture calendars; and to continue the Other Sheep campaign until every church on every district is not only abundantly supplied, but have a surplus for friends, those who are shut in, and members of the congregation.

We are seeking to perfect a systematic outline Study Course available to all our local societies, with suggestions, helps, etc. Something to make each meeting not only interesting, but profitable. We are planning to furnish each society a monthly letter direct from one of the fields, each thus receiving a personal message from each field once a year. We are trying to perfect a workable box system, so that each district can participate, and not feel it a burden, but a blessed privilege.

These are a few of the plans; the possibilities are limitless. How blessed it is that we may all have "all grace" from God's inexhaustible storehouse which with Dean Stanley's paraphrase reads, "God is able to make an overflowing not of one only, but of every kind of gift; so that not in one matter only, but in every matter, and not at one time only, but at every time—you may have for yourselves, not one kind only but every kind of sufficiency; and that you may in your turn overflow in every kind of good work."

S. W. FITKIN, General President.

GENERAL BOARD OF CHURCH EXTENSION

BOARD MEMBERS

- Dr. Edwin Burke, President,
334 N. Laramie Ave., Chicago, Ill.
Rev. Wm. E. Riley, Vice President,
691 Chauncy St., Brooklyn, N. Y.
Rev. Jos. N. Speakes, D. D., Sec'y.-Treas.,
2905 Troost Ave., Kansas City, Mo.
Rev. Alpin M. Bowes,
1014 E. 26th St., Kansas City, Mo.

Rev. Howard Eckle,
522 Cimarron Ave., La Junta, Colo.
Rev. J. W. Short,
5759 Lowell Ave., Indianapolis, Ind.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

The president, secretary and the treasurer compose an Executive Committee, which passes on all loans and performs all business of the Board in the interim of its meetings.

SECURING AND DISBURSEMENT OF FUNDS

The funds of the Board are secured by offerings from the churches, personal gifts, annuities and loans. The churches are expected to raise an amount each year equal to 50 cents per member. Some districts have voted as much as $1.00 per member. A number of districts have adopted the birthday plan, i.e., giving a penny for each year old on or near the time of the birthday.

The funds are disbursed by loans to the churches for the purpose of buying, building and paying debts on church houses and parsonages. From one to five years are given for repayment. In a few instances longer time has been given. Only 5 per cent interest is required, payable semi-annually.

THE WORK ACCOMPLISHED

The Board was organized at the General Assembly held in Nashville, Tennessee, in 1911, but little was done for four years on account of two of the officers leaving the church. A little more than five years of real work have been given to the cause. Before the last General Assembly only four loans had been made, aggregating $1,600. The three years since that time there have been over sixty loans made, totaling more than $36,000. Loans have been made in twenty-nine states, two foreign countries, and thirty districts of the church. Church property on which loans have been made is valued at more than a quarter million dollars. The congregations to whom aid has been extended gave for all purposes last year around $125,000. These churches will give in the next ten years not less than one and a half million dollars. All this on an investment of $36,000 for Church Extension.

One feature of the work since the fearful financial crisis has been to help save much valuable property. Some $50,000 worth has been thus saved in the last two years. New property, worth about $100,000 has been secured through the aid of the Board in the past three years.

SOME NEEDS

Our greatest need is a largely increased capital on which to do business. Urgent appeals are constantly being made for aid that on account of our small means can not be met. Some fine property will soon be lost unless the Board can give immediate assistance, and that can not be done in the measure needed unless the whole church comes to our aid with increased offerings. The fifty cents per member will enable the Board to accomplish much of the work demanded of it.

We are looking for those who can give to the cause on the Annuity Plan. This Board can offer the best inducements in the church for money on this plan, and when given to Church Extension, it never has to be tied up in secular business or private property to protect the annuitant. No waiting until you die to get your money busy in the cause for which given. It will pay you to invest here.

SUGGESTIONS FOR GENERAL ASSEMBLY ACTION

1. That the work be continued without hampering its good begun work by tying it up with some other board or interest. It is so distinctly different from anything else in the church that no really beneficial union or combination can be effected. It is quite able to stand alone. However, the Board would be favorable to the election of a general church treasurer, so that but one clerical force would be needed for all the interests, if the securing and distribution of funds be carefully safeguarded. This treasurer should not be a member of any Board, but free to act without partiality toward any.

2. That a general budget system for all the benevolences be adopted through which all the interests secure their means. A wise and fair system can be arranged. For information, literature or applications write Rev. Jos. N. Speakes, Secretary and Treasurer, 2905 Troost Avenue, Kansas City, Missouri.

J. N. SPEAKES, Secretary.

GENERAL BOARD OF MINISTERIAL RELIEF

Our General Assembly of 1919 took the first steps toward formal recognition of the cause of Ministerial Relief in response to memorials submitted from several district assemblies. The plan adopted reveals the fact that a proper study of the subject had not been made by anyone in the church. A general board of five members was elected and a policy for raising funds was adopted.

The work gained impetus slowly as there were many other interests that claimed the attention of our people. However, the Board has labored faithfully to secure the endorsement of every district assembly to the plan and the year 1921 closed with only six out of the forty districts not contributing, and 1922 closed with only one district delinquent—and that was a home mission district where the cause was not presented.

Assistance from the fund is granted to needy ministers upon the basis of their years of active service in the Church of the Nazarene; to widows upon the basis of the husband's service. All grants are contingent upon the Board having finances on hand as payments become due, as the Board refuses to create debts or deficits.

On January 1, 1923, the Board was aiding four widows and nine ministers. A total of twenty-six have received temporary or permanent aid since the work started.

We thank God for the beginning already made. However, we have a large accrued liability in the fact that the number of necessitous cases will rapidly increase in the next five years with no provision whereby we can make provision in advance for the emergency that will surely arise. For that reason the Board is much concerned in the development of a plan that will prove, not only adequate to the current necessities, but also for the accruing liabilities caused by the more numerous cases of age-disability as the years pass by.

The plans under consideration comprehend the entire field of the gospel ministry, whether actively serving the church in the American homeland or as missionaries on the foreign field. The provision sought will not be on the ground of charity but the ground of just dues growing out of inadequate compensation.

The Board is incorporated and will gladly receive donations, gifts, devises, property or anything that can be used to care for the old preachers and their widows.

E. J. FLEMING, Secretary-Treasurer.

MUTUAL BENEFIT SOCIETY

This benevolent enterprise was initiated on January 1, 1916, by Rev. A. H. Kauffman, of Grand Rapids, Michigan when he started the membership list of the Minister's Mutual Aid Society by enrolling his own name as the first member. In September following the work was placed under the supervision of the Michigan District Assembly which proceeded to formulate plans for the Laymen's Mutual Aid Society. In 1919 the Michigan Assembly memorialized the General Assembly to take over the work of the Laymen's Mutual Aid Society and the Minister's Mutual Aid Society. The General Assembly of 1919 appointed a standing committee to which the memorial was referred. The committee submitted the following report which was duly adopted by the General Assembly:

MUTUAL AID

"1. We recommend the creation of a General Board of Mutual Aid (Benefit), which Board shall take over the Ministers' and the Laymen's Mutual Aid (Benefit) Societies now under the supervision of the Michigan District.

"2. We recommend that the General Board of Mutual Aid (Benefit) so created be authorized so to amend the articles of agreement now in use as to meet the needs of these societies and to arrange all other matters pertaining to the welfare of the societies."—G. A. Minutes 1919.

The General Board of Mutual Benefit of five members was duly elected by the General Assembly. This Board has devoted much time and labor to the formulation of plans that would meet the general approval of the Church, provide reasonable protection for bereaved loved ones, secure the greatest degree of safety, and the utmost efficiency of operation. Owing to the conscientious scruples of many of our good people relative to secular or worldly methods of life insurance, and the consequent desire to create a strictly co-operative benevolent association upon strong Christian principles, coupled with safe business methods has necessitated much care and wisdom. The General Board has been greatly assisted and much encouraged by the helpful advice and loyal co-operation of members of the society.

In harmony with the action of the General Assembly in creating the General Board and conferring upon it sufficient authority to plan for this work the General Board has sought a plan whereby the General Assembly shall be represented fully at all times by the Board and yet the membership granted some part in the management of the affairs of the Society. With these ideas in view the General Board has arranged for an annual meeting of the Board at which time a general review of the year's business is made and plans considered for extending and strengthening the work, and also for an annual meeting of the members of the Society. To further facilitate the business the two separate societies were merged into one society with separate classes of membership.

The annual meeting of the Society is held in connection with the annual meeting of the general boards of the Church of the Nazarene. This meeting is open to every member of the Society and gives the membership a voice in the management of the business.

A Board of Directors of nine members, three of whom are members of the General Board, the remainder being chosen by the Society at its annual meeting, has the immediate responsibility of the management of the Society.

The general principle of the Society in all classes of membership is the same, namely, that when a member dies the remaining members contribute a payment to the benefit fund. No benefit in any membership exceeds $1,000. Total benefits distributed in 1922 were $27,916.50. Since the Society was started in 1916 it has distributed $106,909.50 to the families of its members. Of this amount $50,092.00 have gone directly to the homes of ministers, and $56,817.50 to homes of lay members of the Church of the Nazarene.

On January 1, 1923, there was a total membership in the Society of 3,566. During 1922 the net increase was 579 members.

It can safely be said that no institution of the whole Church of the Nazarene so nearly approximates the ideal realization of the objects designed and the ends sought as the Mutual Benefit work. Organized to a point of efficient dispatch of routine business, making collections from practically the whole earth with commendable facility, paying every claim with the most reasonable promptness, meeting all its operating expenses without debt or deficit, maintaining complete files and records of every transaction with the most painstaking exactness, building up a substantial constituency of saved and sanctified Christians, radiating sorrow-dispelling sunshine in the homes where Death enters, driving out the spectres of heavy bills and harrowing debts, sending messages of sympathy and comfort to grief stricken men and women, offering prayers to the God of all grace for those in need and frequently sending a message of salvation and hope to a tempted soul, or a message of encouragement to a discouraged member. And all of this is accomplished in the Church and for the Church without ever asking the Church for a single collection or offering.

E. J. FLEMING, Secretary.

GENERAL ORPHANAGE BOARD

The general orphanage work of the Church of the Nazarene is one of the latest institutions created in our movement. The Orphans' Home at Peniel Texas, was taken over by the Church at the last General Assembly, having previously been managed by Rev. E. C. DeJernett who was succeeded by Rev. Oscar Hudson, and several of the southern districts gave it support till taken over by the General Church. The General Assembly elected a general board to have charge of orphanage work and placed the home under its care.

During the first year of its control by the General Board the Peniel College property at Peniel, Texas, was purchased for $30,000, having an indebtedness of $25,000. This indebtedness has nearly all been met by offerings through the Church channels during 1920 and 1921 to the amount of $13,000 and an annuity of $10,000. The offerings have also taken care of the running expenses of the home during this time. At present there is an indebtedness on the property of $6,500. The financial depression of the past two years had delayed the payment of this balance. But God has been directing all and at present our home is in good condition and on a good basis to become a splendid institution in our movement for the care and training of homeless children into useful manhood and womanhood in the Kingdom of God.

God has given us a splendid manager in the person of Rev. F. C. Percy who is meeting with exceptional success in economical management. The Church and constituency can feel perfectly safe in knowing that the offerings for the home will be used with the utmost care and economy. Our people will continue to stand by and meet all the present necessities and soon enable us to enlarge sufficiently to care for the many applications which are constantly coming to receive and place children.

This orphanage work is just in its infancy and the next General Assembly will determine the future policy of the Church in matters of permanency of location, development of resources and greater usefulness in the salvation and training of homeless and helpless children to become successful Christian citizens and laborers in the Kingdom of our Lord.

THEODORE LUDWIG, President.

NAZARENE ORPHANS' HOME

PENIEL, TEXAS

This is the only orphanage which we, as the Church of the Nazarene, control. This is surely a needy, worthy and may I say a somewhat neglected branch of God's work. Christ said: "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God."

What are we as a denomination going to answer at the judgment if we do not do our part, or more, in helping the fatherless, motherless children of our own brothers and sisters in Christ and others as we may be able? Is not God holding us responsible? If so, let us shoulder the orphanage work and give it its rightful place along with all other lines of God's work. We are sure every loyal Nazarene realizes Christ's interest in little children, and that you are back of the orphanage as it goes forward under God's direction in the years to come.

Being comparatively new people in the Home and to most of our Nazarene brothers and sisters, but believing that God led us here, by His grace and with His help, we are determined to do our best to make the Home an honor to Him and to the Church of the Nazarene. We took up our duties in the Home as manager and matron the 15th of last June, so in reporting the work accomplished throughout 1922, we are making a division at that date.

From January 1, 1922, to June 15th, the management placed children as follows: Eight with their relatives, ten in individual homes and four left the Home of their own accord. During the balance of the year sixteen children were either placed with their relatives or were taken from the home by their relatives who were paying their expenses on the Home. Three children were placed in individual homes. Three groups of brothers and sisters who had been placed in the Home upon the condition that they would be kept together, were placed in a holiness school and Home combined, where they are receiving their education and thus remaining together as long as possible. Three of the older children left the Home of their own accord. The Management received one child into the Home before June 15th, and ten after that date, making a total of sixty-two children which the Home ministered to in one way or another in 1922. At present four of our older children are taking the business course. Two of these have positions awaiting them upon their completion of the course. From June 15, 1922, to January 1, 1923, the total receipts were $12,680.47, composed of the following: donations, $3,377.04; pledges paid, $606.00; from coin cards, $311.99; from loan, $6,000.00; from other sources, $2,385.44.

The disbursements of this amount were as follows: total actual running expenses, $4,520.11, which is composed of the following: salaries, $1,080.51; clothing, $246.34; groceries, $1,007.97; propaganda, $304.03; traveling expenses, $455.94; other monthly bills, $1,425.32. $7,828.88 was paid on old debts, interest and insurance. Cash on hand, January 1, 1923: $196.08.

The outlook for 1923 is limitless. At this writing, January 25th, we have taken into the Home so far this year five children and placed one in a Christian home. We have over one dozen applications on file which we are investigating. We are also considering the placing of four children into Christian homes.

Dear reader, the future of the Nazarene Orphans' Home depends on you and me, as we obey God. We can all pray for this line of God's work. We can all contribute something to the expense of this worthy work. The amount should be left to God's direction.

Last but not least you can be of great assistance to the Home by writing us relative to any child who is deserving of our help, also by citing us to childless

Christian homes where one or more of our children would be a blessing, lending sunshine, life and happiness to otherwise quiet and lonely homes.

We, as workers, will appreciate your assistance along any line, assuring you that we are heart and soul in the work, determined with God's help to do our best.

MR. AND MRS. F. C. PERCY,
Asst. Supt. and Matron.

SOCIAL WELFARE

BETHANY TRAINING HOME

In May, 1916, Rev. Johnson of Nashville, Tenn., and Rev. A. J. Vallery organized Bethany Training Home. Without friends, without money, without buildings—yea, without anything but the divine promises and faith in God—the work was launched in the city of Memphis, Tennessee. The battles have been fierce, but in every conflict, in answer to prayer, God has brought us out more than conquerors.

Bethany Training Home is located at 901 Chelsea Avenue, and property has been accumulated which is now valued at $50,000, with only about $6,000 indebtedness.

Hundreds of poor unfortunate girls and their babies have been cared for, and nearly all of the girls have been led to Christ. During 1922 the Home cared for 120 girls, and 95 babies and children. None of the girls have died, but of the 95 babies there have been four deaths at the hospital owing to premature births. However, there have been no deaths in the Home.

The work is supported entirely by free will offerings and gifts of individuals, churches and other organizations. Many people in Memphis contribute liberally toward its support. Needs of the Home have been supplied in part by clubs and societies of the city, as well as by churches in the adjacent states. City pastors and church societies and classes conduct religious services in the Home at stated times.

This Home and work merits the wholehearted support of the Church of the Nazarene, as well as others who love the cause of the erring and unfortunate.

A. J. VALLERY, Superintendent.

REST COTTAGE

Kansas City, Missouri.

Rest Cottage, established January 26, 1904, and incorporated in 1906, has been in continuous operation. The purpose of Rest Cottage is to provide shelter and protection for the girl or woman who has missed her way morally.

The work was the outcome of a conviction on the hearts of a group of Christian people who felt there was a need to minister to this neglected class without restriction as to age, time limit or other conditions. It was specially desired that the Gospel be emphasized as their supreme need and also the source of their greatest possibilities.

In pursuance of the plans inaugurated by the founders of Rest Cottage, the religious features of our work have been given pre-eminence. Every day devotional services are conducted with song, Scripture reading and prayer; also Bible memory work. The ideals of right living are faithfully presented to the residents of Rest Cottage by the Christian women in charge.

The results of a positive Christian influence have been encouraging and fruitful in the changed life of many a one who has all but given up hope for this life and the life to come. The years have given repeated evidence that all that some have needed was an opportunity.

The work is endorsed by Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska District Assemblies, and is under the control of a local association.

Medical examination has been provided under the direction of a competent physician and medical care given where needed. The home does not do hospital work, but we receive and care for the unmarried mothers both prior to, and following, the birth of the child. Besides these, we receive other unfortunate girls and women who have need of shelter and assistance. No one is refused if we have facilities to care for them. A few times during the year we have been obliged to refuse admittance to those who desired to come.

Very few have been able to furnish anything for their own care and our work on the whole has been, almost entirely, gratis. Out of the number who came, many have needed medical care, and between 450 and 500 treatments have been administered to them during their stay in the home. The treatments are provided at the clinics and also from the private practice of physicians. The expectant mother is visited each week and given any needed care.

Blood and other tests are made such as are necessary to discover cases of disease and efforts made to give such care as shall restore them to normal health. It quite frequently occurs that we are called upon to care for girls who are infected with social diseases of which they themselves are entirely ignorant. Never having had a blood test, they were not aware of their true condition. This method enables us to minister to them in a very practical way.

R— came to us through another agency in this city and upon examination was found to be in a most critical stage: her people were unable to help her and she, being only seventeen years of age, had no means of her own. She was received and immediately put under medical care, and remained with us until her health was restored. Not only her physical health was looked after but she became an earnest Christian while in Rest Cottage, and was later returned to her own home.

A course of ten lectures was given the family by a Red Cross nurse. Fifty-two religious services were held. Sunday school sessions were held each Sunday.

January 1, 1922, seventeen girls and five babies constituted our family. During the year January 1, 1922 to January 1, 1923, seventy-eight girls and thirty-four babies were received, making a total of ninety-five girls and thirty-nine babies. Total days lodgings furnished for the year, 8,848. Total meals, 22,948.

The past year has not been without its conflicts nor its financial obligations, oft times greatly in excess of our income. We have been allowed a portion of the funds which are secured yearly by the Chamber of Commerce of this city for charitable purposes. This does not cover our yearly expense and we are dependent on other voluntary contributions; individuals, clubs, churches, Sunday schools and Sunday school classes have given of their means to enable us to make a home.

Our work is conducted in a sixteen room house, which we are paying for as we use. Three Deaconesses of the Church of the Nazarene have charge of the work. It was voted by the local association that Rest Cottage should be made an institution of the Church. The matter was taken up with the General Board of Social Welfare and acted upon favorably by the members of the Board, but the General Board has not convened since this action was taken, and nothing further has been done to consummate our plans. Meanwhile we have gone forward in "labors abundant" to seek the restoration of the slain among the daughters of America and care for the little ones who are fatherless, indeed.

God has honored our labors, and souls have been won which we believe will shine forth as the sun in the Kingdom of our Father.

MISS LUE MILLER, Superintendent.

REST COTTAGE

A HOME FOR ERRING GIRLS AND OUTCAST CHILDREN

Rest Cottage is located in Pilot Point, Texas. This home was established February 1, 1903, by J. P. Roberts, who with the help of Mrs. J. P. Roberts has had the home in charge since then. One physician has been the house doctor since the home was established.

The running expenses of Rest Cottage amount to about $10,000 annually. Approximately one hundred and forty inmates are cared for yearly.

Rest Cottage has a large lawn with flowers, pot plants, trees and shrubbery of many kinds and presents a very pleasing sight in the spring and summer. There are lawn seats under some of the trees. Rest Cottage owns thirteen acres of tillable land in a block besides forty acres of pasture land. We have a vineyard, orchard, berries and gardens. The home is situated on the outskirts of town, thus giving the inmates every advantage of farm life as they come into contact with horses, cows, hogs, poultry and the like, getting a farm life education with the advantages of electric lights and city water power. There are concrete sidewalks and several of the flower beds are curbed with cement. Then we have the big barn, feeding pens, chicken house, meat house and other outbuildings including the laundry, which is equipped with an electric washing machine.

The house itself has two floors and the basement. It is painted white with a red roof. It resembles nothing so much as an old fashioned, immense home, the kind we connect with old Southern plantations. There are two porches in the front, one in the back and one screened porch off the kitchen.

The basement is used for storing canned foods. The first floor consists of the hospital, matron's room, two parlors, hallway, front and back stairway, sitting room, dining room and kitchen. The woodwork throughout the house, with the exception of a few rooms, is done in white; the walls are all snowy white except two or three rooms. The floors are stained and cleaned with oil. The hospital is in two rooms on the south side. Here every care and attention is given the sick and the student nurse has it in charge. The parlors are joined with a double entrance opening them into one long room. In the parlors there are book cases, tables, rocking chairs, piano, and interesting souvenirs from foreign countries. The sitting room has wicker rockers and library table; the dining room, two large tables always covered with white linen table covers. In most of the first floor rooms there are several oil paintings of beautiful natural scenery.

The second floor has the nursery, bath, two dormitories, sewing room, porch Helen's room and Aunt Minnie's room. In the dormitories each girl has her own bed, made up with white sheets and pillow slips and homely quilts. Each cover and pillow slip for the beds has an edging of lace. The nursery is a sunny little room off to itself where the babies are cared for by competent girls while the mothers are busy during part of the day. Helen's room belongs to Blind Helen, who has been in the home for eighteen years. Aunt Minnie's room belongs to Aunt Minnie, our assistant matron, who has been with us twelve years.

The inmates of Rest Cottage are organized into one large happy family. They love each other very much. Each girl shares alike, those who are able, are expected to pay their expenses, but when not able we have cared for them the same as we have the others. They are given plenty of wholesome nourishing food. The girls do not wear uniforms but are educated to dress themselves as becomingly as possible. When girls first come to us the first step we take toward educating them is to get them right with God and try to teach them that the Lord is their best Friend.

The girls are grouped, each group having a certain task to perform. One group cooks, one group waits tables and cleans the dining room; one group cleans the upstairs, another does the outside work and so on until the whole runs just as a successful housekeeper runs a large family. The atmosphere of our home is very homelike and very unlike an institution. The matron and workers advise the girls and keep them in order but there are not very many iron clad rules; it is left to the girls to follow the guidance of their hearts as to right and wrong. Certainly if they do wrong, they are corrected and try to improve. Several of our girls have gone to the public schools in Pilot Point to gain an education. We also furnish an education in music by giving the girls music lessons. The numerous embroidered table covers, lace edged curtains etc., prove how usefully the girls employ spare time. One of the girls is the seamstress for the home. The girls are no different from a large family in their association.

Many of our girls are called to the Lord's work; some preachers, some missionaries, etc. This home may be looked on as a house of sorrow, but our girls, when they find God, think it is a happy home and very few leave without a regret for Rest Cottage. Eighty-five per cent of our girls make good, eighty-five per cent made into useful citizens.

This home is a great benefit to society. Girls come here deep in sin. Others come here who have made a first mistake but if left may plunge deeper. Then there are those who have no homes and come to us for protection. We take these girls, not to help hide their sin, but to help them to get it under the Blood, to cleanse their hearts, to inspire a love of God in their hearts and to make useful, noble Christian women of them, and to give them a new

NAZARENE PUBLISHING HOUSE

THE printed page is undoubtedly one of the greatest agencies in this day and age for the spreading of the gospel. Early missionaries were quick to recognize its value, and about the first thing they did upon reaching their fields of labor was to translate the Holy Scriptures, printing portions of them to be scattered abroad.

The importance of the printing and publishing industry can be estimated from the fact that it now ranks as one of the greatest, although it is only a little more than 100 years since the first printing press was manufactured in our country.

The Church of the Nazarene at the Third General Assembly held at Nashville, Tenn., recognized the necessity and importance of having a Publishing House of our own, where not only the church paper and Sunday school periodicals could be printed, but where books and other literature could be published and become a great evangelizing force in the world.

The Nazarene Publishing House owned and operated by and for the Church, was established during 1912 at Kansas City, Mo., as a repository for church and Sunday school literature, Bibles, books, Scripture calendars, and other supplies. Kansas City with its unexcelled transportation facilities together with its geographical location as the center of the United States, enables the Publishing House to expeditiously serve the Church as well as our many friends in the holiness movement. From a very meager beginning, handicapped and hampered in our progress, but with faith in God, the people who are and were at the Publishing House wrought faithfully until at the present time a nicely equipped plant is in operation, transforming several carloads of paper each year into leaves of healing for the nation.

The Church is substantially represented by the Herald of Holiness, a sixteen-page weekly, The Other Sheep, a monthly missionary paper, and a full line of spiritual, full-salvation Sunday school literature consisting of the Bible School Teacher's Journal, Bible School Quarterly, Golden Hour Quarterly, Home Department Quarterly, Youth's Quarterly, Lesson Leaflets, Junior Joys, Sunshine, Youth's Comrade, Lesson Picture Roll, Lesson Picture Cards.

Possibly some may look upon the Publishing House as being a purely business enterprise, yet it is a soul-saving institution, preaching the gospel by means of the printed page. It has, under God, endeavored to fulfill its mission during these past ten years, steadily enlarging its circle of influence as evidenced by this interesting comparative publication statement covering a period from April, 1912 to June 30, 1922.

Literature free from the taint of destructive criticism and errors that are prevalent in this day is being sent to every country by our missionaries and practically every State and province of the United States and Canada, so we are fulfilling our mission in sending out the gospel to the ends of the earth. Aside from the literature, we print propaganda matter, not only for the publishing interests, but for our connectional institutions and a goodly number of churches. To make this a reality, it has been necessary to install modern equipment and a careful perusal of our periodicals will convince any one of the high standard of mechanical excellence that has been maintained.

At the present time there are employed upward of thirty people in the Production, Administration and Editorial Departments, and several contributing editors. It is our purpose to have an efficient and loyal staff, yet their spiritual needs are not overlooked.

The Lord has blessed us with employees who have had years of experience, nevertheless we can not conduct a business such as ours without the help and guidance of the Lord.

Before taking up our daily duties, we gather together for a few moments in the main office for devotional service. These few moments spent in worship each day have been seasons of blessings and helpfulness.

The constituency of the Church of the Nazarene has been characterized as, "evangelistic in spirit, having a burning desire to disseminate the doctrine and experience of entire sanctification."

This is an opportune time to call attention to the vital importance of the printed page. It is so easy in our enthusiasm to overlook an essential item; we are apt to circumscribe our activities by failing to properly marshal our forces and by neglecting to co-ordinate and take advantage of every agency and department of our work.

We throw out the challenge, that it YET REMAINS TO BE SEEN what can be accomplished by a concerted effort of the entire church, every institution, every preacher, every layman at his or her assigned post of duty.

The work of the church can be made far more effective and extensive by and through the medium of full gospel literature.

The printed page wields a powerful influence in molding public opinion and shaping the lives of men, and can be made a message of salvation in places where the spoken word can not be ministered.

While millions are being expended by the forces of evil, ought we not to utilize every possible means to counteract these agencies and accomplish the task God has given us to preach the gospel to the ends of the earth?

The Publishing House has adopted for its slogan: "The full gospel to the whole world by the printed page." Our aims and aspirations are embodied in these striking words. But as far as attaining this aim, and making this slogan a reality, we can only take the initiative. We must have avenues of distribution; points of contact, if you please. We must reach individuals through individuals. That is the aspect of evangelism by the printed page, which fires our souls with holy enthusiasm—the individual, man to man contact which it demands.

Not only are we dependent upon individuals—preachers and laymen, for our outlet in the distribution of the gospel message, but every believer in the gospel of full salvation has a responsibility in the matter.

When we speak of missions we say, "Every one has a part—some to go; others to pray; and yet others to pay, making it possible for the called ones to go. Thus it is with the work of "Giving a full gospel to the whole world by the printed page," excepting this one important fact, we are all called to carry the gospel to others.

GENERAL COLPORTAGE BOARD

The greatest gift to the world since the birth of Christ was the open Bible—the printed Word of God. Without this printed Word, designing men had been successful in preaching to the multitudes a gospel other than the divine commandment. But with the advent of the Bible—free to all—the true Word of God has never been absent from the world. Protestantism owes its success to the coming of the printed Gospel. With the open Book as the source of inspiration countless thousands of other books have been scattered throughout the world; and the realm of music also has been wonderfully enriched. Indeed, the Holy Bible is a true source of inspiration—a lamp to our feet and a light to our path.

Appreciating the great part in salvation work that the Bible and good literature take, church bodies have undertaken to carry the gospel in printed form to countless thousands. The successes attending such distribution have been marvelous, and individual experiences while engaged in such work have been told of thousands of colporteurs. Doubtless each reader of this Year Book can recall such experiences, either as happening to himself or as having read of such in the work of others.

We give below two reasons, of the many, why colportage work is necessary and also profitable:

First. It is one of but two ways whereby the Word of God can reach the people—speak it or write it. God speaks as effectually in His Word as by His servant. Indeed, many passages of Scripture point clearly to the high place the printed gospel has in God's economy. Thousands of persons will not attend church services, other thousands can not—but all can be reached by the printed gospel. As we pray for His Spirit to attend the spoken ministry, so may we pray for His Spirit to attend the printed ministry. How often has man's wild career been intercepted with the leaves of healing!

Second. It is essential to widely distribute a true gospel in order to combat the mass of false printed matter constantly being put forth by organizations teaching error. It is not nearly enough to combat printed error by spoken words only. Taking advantage of improved printing methods, increased mailing facilities and agencies of distribution, the Church of the Nazarene can marvelously increase its effectiveness in combating error by the multiplying of its efforts in distributing the printed gospel.

In harmony with the spirit of advancement evidenced in the General Assembly of 1919, that body created a General Colportage Board, which in turn constitutes the directing body of the Nazarene Tract Society. This board, in common with some of the other boards, has largely curtailed its activities in the interest of economy. But millions of pages of literature—full gospel, every one—have been circulated—every page in harmony with the Word of God and sponsored by a responsible church organization.

Enough preliminary work has been done to satisfy the present board that, proceeding in harmony with a complete co-operative effort on the part of all the institutions of the church, the colportage work of the Church of the Nazarene can accomplish both objectives mentioned above—the carrying of the full gospel by the printed page to the millions of earth and combating the error so widely spread by the enemies of truth.

A happy feature of this work is that it permits of every child of God becoming an active, efficient minister of the Word, thus coming in harmony with the Scripture which says, "He that winneth souls is wise."

REV. CHARLES A. KINDER, Sec'y.,
General Colportage Board.

NAZARENE TRACT SOCIETY

Born in the spirit of prayer at a time of great need, the work of this Society (formerly known as the Evangel Colportage and Tract Society) was launched under the supervision of the General Board of Publication in 1918. The only object is the systematic, continuous, everlasting sending forth of the printed gospel.

The need is most urgent for good, clean, wholesome literature to counteract the pernicious doctrines advocated by Russelism, Mormonism, Christian Science and numerous other forms of error. There are multiplied thousands who may be reached by an attractive, readable gospel message of a few pages, who would not give attention to a book or a sermon. They may be distributed by countless methods and become most potent factors for salvation in diligent, judicious hands.

The need is doubly urgent that our church look upon this institution as a means to supply her own gospel workers with tracts that are doctrinally sound and which contain no admixtures of true and false. When our people—and others—secure tracts and other literature from our Nazarene Tract Society, they will be assured of nothing but that which is in harmony with our standards and safe to place in any hands.

Like many other most useful institutions, this one has suffered from lack of finances. However, in spite of that fact, millions upon millions of pages of solid gospel truth have gone into all the earth to preach a full salvation. Several of the district assemblies have given this work a place on their financial budget and our General Assembly should plan to continue the Society and provide for its support. This can be done by asking every church to take up one free will offering per year for the Nazarene Tract Society.

NAZARENE YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIETY

In the year 1915, at the New York District Assembly held in the month of April, a committee met and conferred together with Dr. H. F. Reynolds over the advisability and possibility of the organization of the young people's work. Realizing the need of more earnest and definite work in this field of labor in our connection, this conference worked to this end and resulted in the formation of several local young people's societies in the churches and later, in the organization of these various local societies into a District Society at the First Annual Convention of the New York District Young People's Nazarene Society, in Brooklyn, New York, September, 1915. Whether this was the first step in our connection or not toward local and district organization, we do not know, but since then both local and district societies have sprung up over the entire church and a chain of them is spread over the country from the Atlantic to the Pacific. We know the following District Societies to be organized: New York, Pittsburgh, Southern California, San Antonio, Washington-Philadelphia, Tennessee, Northern California, Western Oklahoma and Dallas.

Evangelism, business, discussions and elections take place at the Annual Conventions which are held in most of these district societies. The New York and Washington-Philadelphia District Societies have held two joint conventions and will meet in Brooklyn, February 6 to 9, this year, to hold the Third Annual Joint-Convention.

The general church is awakened on this important phase of its work, and the argument has been settled and the fact established that organization of young people's work is both a necessary and valuable asset. The Manual conveys this truth. Everything which has been accomplished worth while has been accomplished through organization. Note the diversity between the ministry of a John Wesley, who was an organizer and hence conserved his work, and that of George Whitefield who worked along the lines of unorganized effort. Examine the entire business world; the steel corporations, railroad companies, wholesale and retail establishments. Surely

"The children of this world are in their generation wiser than the children of light." Every church should have a local society on fire for God and souls. Every district should be organized and that organization should seek to organize new local societies, strengthen those already organized, arrange and hold district conventions and set the entire district ablaze with revival fires.

Every interest but the young people, in our connection, is well organized and policies established. Each is well represented through the entire church. Young people's work is still unrepresented and unorganized as a general interest and hence can have no working basis, no common relation and fellowship and no united effort and purpose. The societies in the West are separated, generally speaking, in effort and policy and leadership from those in the East and Central and South. Hence no propaganda, general interest and "things in common." In unity there is strength. The young people's work is one of the most important issues of the church but it is still playing the part of an "orphan." Young people are the future hope of the church; the coming preachers, pastors, evangelists, college presidents, soul winners, prayers, pushers, givers, and laymen. Where would the church be in ten years without them? Where are the students coming from to fill up our schools? Will they not come from the local churches? Then should not the young people's work be fostered, stimulated and carried on to the extremes of zeal and interest? To produce there must be a source of supply. A single army must hold others in reserve from which a quota can be drawn.

As there are local societies and as there are district societies, should there not be a general organization, the object of which should be to suggest, to supervise, to arrange, plan for and hold National Conventions? Where ideas are exchanged and discussed, where there will be closer contact between our young people in general, where enthusiasm is disseminated and the whole young people's work set on fire?

Steps have already been taken in this direction. At the meeting of the Correlated Board in February, 1921, a committee was appointed by the General Superintendents to arrange and plan for a National Convention of Young People's Societies at which convention a general organization would be perfected having its own officers, constitution and by-laws. This committee is planning to hold this convention in conjunction with the time of the General Assembly at Kansas City, next September. The committee anticipates the co-operation of all districts to make this first convention a success. It should be a great time of power and victory and an impetus to the young people's work over the entire connection. All districts that have a district organization should meet and appoint delegates and as soon as possible, send names and addresses of same to the committee. There being no organization as yet, hence no constitution, there can be no specified number of delegates, but each district should send at least one to represent them. The New York District has elected their district president as their delegate. Where there is no perfected district society, a request should be sent in to the district superintendent from some local church on that district, that he or the advisory board may appoint some one to represent district young people's work on that district. This committee further requests that all presidents of district societies send their names and addresses at earliest possible convenience to this committee. Further details will appear later in the columns of the Herald of Holiness. The committee will welcome any suggestions, ideas, questions or criticisms.

start in life. We like to keep the girls until they have proven to themselves and the world they are really established in God and able to overcome temptation. That is the purpose for which our home was founded and that is the purpose for which it now stands. It is consecrated to God to save human souls, and it has been built up with tears and prayers and by the help of the Lord, and will succeed only as God sees fit. Praise His holy name.

GENERAL BOARD OF HOME MISSIONS AND EVANGELISM

The General Board of Home Missions and Evangelism is the strong right arm of the Church to do her pioneer work in the Home Land. This Board furnishes help for the District Superintendents serving Districts that are unable to give adequate support. It strengthens weak churches where the opportunities for enlargement are favorable—in so doing to build up strong churches—and also enters the large centers of population and establishes new churches.

Districts Assisted

The Board has been greatly hindered in its work because of the financial conditions in the country and in the church. However, the Board has been able to assist the following Districts: North Dakota-Minnesota, Dakota-Minneapolis, Louisiana, Western Colorado-Utah, Eastern Colorado-Wyoming, Mississippi, Florida, Northern California, Arizona and Missouri.

Districts Campaigned

The General Secretary has campaigned many of the Districts in the interest of Home Missions. He has attended many of the district assemblies, conventions and rallies in the interest of home missions and evangelism which has given our people the vision and burden for this great branch of our work.

Tents Provided

The Board has made it possible for not less than a dozen gospel tents to be placed in the field of pioneer home missionary work. Gospel tent meetings constitute one of the best methods of getting into the large centers of population and especially is this true in the South where the tent season is long.

New and Weak Churches

While the Board has not had the means to enter the large centers of population as has been desired, yet something has been accomplished worth while. Good strong churches have been established at Minneapolis, Minn., and at Carthage and Lamar, Mo. The weak churches at Detroit, Mich., Toledo, Ohio, and Morritown, Ark., and the Mission at Salt Lake City, Utah, have been strengthened. These churches all promise to become strong centers of revival fires.

Home Missionary Interest

The General Board has been able to keep the vision and burden of Home Missions before and upon our people through one of the greatest financial crises the church has ever experienced. We trust that the future will give this branch of our church the opportunity to promote its work by furnishing the Board with greater resources. The great open doors of opportunity are on every hand. With the splendid beginning, we trust that the future will see much good accomplished by the General Board of Home Missions and Evangelism.

N. B. HERRELL, Secretary.

PASTORS IN CHARGE OF CHURCHES

Note.—The subjoined list of pastors was corrected in nearly every district to January 1, 1923. In some cases the Editor did not receive returns from the District Superintendent, hence errors may occur. Every effort has been made to publish an accurate list. Frequent changes of address make it difficult to keep the list up-to-date. The names are grouped alphabetically under each district and easy for reference. We solicit the co-operation of district officers in making these lists of value to the Church and the public. To ascertain if pastors are ordained or licensed consult the directory of ministers.—EDITOR.

ORDAINED AND LICENSED MINISTERS

Note.—In the subjoined list of ministers the licensed ministers are denoted by (L). All others are ordained ministers. The Editor has endeavored to secure accuracy in names and addresses, but changes of address are so frequent and numerous that it is impossible to guarantee accuracy. Names are grouped under each District and ready reference is easy. Where addresses are omitted the reason can usually be found by consulting the District Minutes. We earnestly solicit the helpful co-operation of all District Secretaries. Suggestions and correspondence are cordially solicited by the General Secretary.—EDITOR.

Waves of Glory No. 2

THIS new song book contains 420 choice hymns. Such a large assortment of songs makes the book especially suited to church services, but it is equally desirable for Sunday school work, young people's meetings and special revival campaigns.

The book is furnished in several styles of binding at different prices ranging from 30c to 60c each, in lots of 100 or more. In this we can accommodate churches who desire a book of first-class quality; also those who, needing and appreciating a hymnal with a large selection of good songs, yet can not afford the more expensive bindings.

Printed in Round Notes only

Keratol or imitation leather, with reinforced back. This style presents an unusually attractive appearance. The title is stamped in gold on a rich black background. Keratol wears better than leather, is waterproof and does not show finger prints. This style is well worth the price.

Single copy, 75c, prepaid. 100 copies, $60, transportation extra.

Cloth Boards with reinforced back. A durable edition with ordinary use will wear for years. Not quite as attractive in appearance as the Keratol binding, but nevertheless a popular style giving satisfaction wherever used.

Single copy, 60c, prepaid. 100 copies $50, transportation extra.

Limp Cloth. A hymnal with 420 songs is bound to be higher in price than the ordinary song book with fewer numbers, yet there are churches that can not afford the better bindings. In such cases we recommend the limp cloth which is comparatively inexpensive, yet quite durable. We use the best quality of pebble-cloth that we can secure for this style.

Single copy, 50c, prepaid. 100 copies $40, transportation extra.

Manila. This is especially prepared heavy paper, tough and flexible, and it gives good service. We use this binding so as to bring the price of the song books within the reach of small churches and missions who simply can not afford the next better grade.

Single copy, 40c, prepaid. 100 copies $30, transportation extra.

Wants and Solicits Your Help and Co-operation

If you are back of the management of the Home, let us know it by writing us regarding destitute, but worthy homeless children to whom the Home could be of assistance. Then again, you could show your interest in homeless children, and in the work of the Home by bringing to our attention homes, with whom you are acquainted, where one or more of our children would be a blessing and would receive Christian training and education, thus developing into useful Christian men and women. We realize that a private Christian home can do more for the orphans of today than we can hope to do here at the Home under institutional life. Thanking you for your co-operation and requesting that you address all communication to Peniel Orphans Home, Peniel, Texas.

ANNUITIES

of the
General Board of Ministerial Relief
of the

---

The Board pays substantial rates of interest on the money while the annuitant lives and at his death the money is invested in one of the holiest ministrations of the Church—the care of wornout and disabled ministers, their widows and dependent orphans.

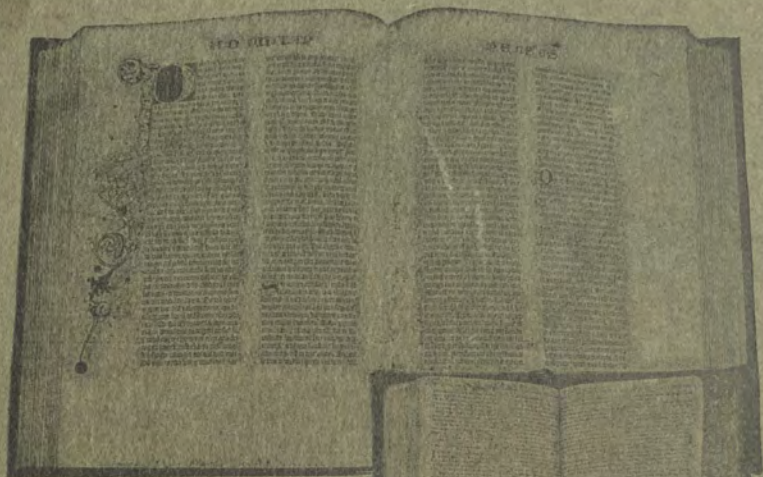

You should investigate because—

1. They are burglar proof, fire proof and fool proof.
2. You can be your own executor. Why trust to uncertain issues?
3. Annuity payments may be made quarterly, semi-annually or annually, thus insuring a regular income.
4. The money invested in the annuities of this Board will pay you an income while you live and will “lay up treasure in heaven” for you as long after the translation of the annuitant as Time shall wing his flight. The annuitant enjoying the bliss of heaven but still accumulating treasure that moth and rust will not destroy.
5. The annuity bonds of the General Board of Ministerial Relief guarantee the use of your money for a specific purpose—the care of wornout and disabled ministers, their widows and dependent orphans.
6. Their afflictions, their sufferings, their loneliness, their helplessness, backed by their years of devotion to the Church, appeal to your most loving consideration.

The "Best Seller" of the Centuries

A printed Bible cost 2000 francs in Paris in 1470. The same text in manuscript form cost four times as much. Yet the Bible was bought. No other writings, then as now, were read by as many people. Thousands have owned Bibles who possessed no other books.

Today, there is scarcely a man too poor to afford a Bible. He may even insist on having his Bible of convenient size, and legible as well, without failing to obtain a well-bound volume at a low price.

All this involves the use of thin paper for the printing of Bibles. But if the volume is to endure in use, such paper must be strong and durable as well as thin. These necessary conditions are fulfilled in Bibles printed on Holman presses.

The first printers greatly increased the general circulation of the Bible. The cost of a Bible has ceased to be prohibitive. The Writings have been translated into every tongue. We may now add that the development of permanent thin printing papers, both Bible and India qualities, to meet the growing demand for Holman-made editions, has made possible an even broader use of the Bible.
