Religion

Our college days are filled with searching — a never-ending quest for reality. With each new truth we add a stone to the structure of our lives. As we learn to master the skills of mathematics and meet the goals of physical education, we secure each stone with mortar. However, without a solid foundation our walls will crumble. We find in religion this foundation and unity for the whole matter of living.

Academics

With a firm foundation we can begin to build the walls, brick by brick.

Each brick is made from many substances. Red clay must be dug from the ground, sand scraped from the shore, and water pumped from the river. Mixed with lime and put under strong pressure at a high temperature a brick is formed. With mathematics, history, philosophy, biology, and literature we mold, in the same manner, the bricks of our knowledge. Each material alone has little strength, but combined they will stand the ages.

Activities

Though our foundation is solid and our walls strong, our structure is incomplete without a roof — protection for the structure we have built. As we participate in campus extra-curricular activities we balance our education and keep our structure from gathering dust.

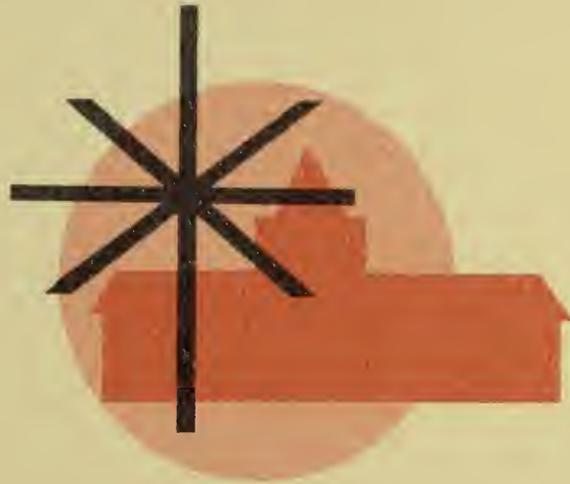

Social

We have molded each part of our structure yet something remains undone — that which makes our structure unique, our own. With our social lives we add the finishing touches. We do not stop building at graduation, but we continue to add forever the little things which make our lives rich and full.

Dedication

A builder built a structure
That reached into the sky.
It stood for beauty, grace and skill.
And as the world went by Another built a lifetime
That reached to passing men.
He stood for strength and faith and love
And others followed him.

We, the 1968 DARDA staff, wish to dedicate these memories to Rev. C. T. Duckett.

THIS IS TREVECCA. . . THIS IS YOUR TREVECCA THIS IS OUR TREVECCA

J. O. McClurkan planted the seed; C. E. Hardy, John T. Benson, and others pruned the plant; Dr. A. B. Mackey watered it; but it was God who gave the increase. It might be rightly said that our Trevecca today is here because of God's man, Dr. A. B. Mackey, was willing to be led by the hand of destiny.

At the retirement of President A. B. Mackey, destiny placed upon the shoulders of Dr. W. M. Greathouse the responsibility of carrying on the task of Christian education for the youth of the great southeast.

With President Greathouse as our leader, we are confident of the present. With a constant awareness of our purpose to provide quality education in an environment conducive to vital Christianity, we are challenged by the future. Thus we find ourselves in a Decade of Challenge. Challenged by thousands of youth intently searching for meaning to life—restless in their search for a philosophy upon which they can organize their lives into a meaningful pattern — that they might live creatively and redemptively in the community of mankind.

Trevecca Missionary Fellowship

The TMF includes students whom Christ has chosen to serve on the mission field and other students who are interested. It sponsors an annual Missionary Convention in the spring. Keeping informed of all Nazarene missionary activities and stressing the responsibilities and requirements for future service at home or in a foreign country, its members seek to fulfill God's command, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature."

Christian Workers Association

MIKE ROSS, President

The Christian Workers Association enables Trevecca students to put their religious education into practice while being a source of strength and light to the needy of this city. Conducting services in all areas of Nashville, Christian workers are influential in winning many souls into the kingdom of Christ. There is an area of service for every person in singing, teaching, praying, witnessing, or preaching.

President

Trevecca Nazarene College has been called "the classic Wesleyan college in the emerging South." She exists to provide quality education in the liberal arts on the college level in a climate conducive to both learning and spirituality.

This yearbook presents the College as a "building fitly framed together." Her foundation is Jesus Christ. In Him is seen the perfect disclosure of God and therefore the final revelation of Ultimate Reality. At the heart of the cosmos is the God who is self-expressed in Jesus Christ. This means that the God of redemption is also the God of creation. Truth thus is of one piece; prayer and inquiry therefore go hand in hand.

The walls of Trevecca are here academics. Her curriculum is being constantly evaluated and revised by the Dean and the Academic Council. New experimental programs are offered each year as the College endeavors to meet the changing demands of her students and the society she serves. The faculty is being upgraded and enlarged annually, with doctorates being added each year. The library continues to grow, with over 40,000 volumes now on the shelves. A new half-million dollar physical education center and a new $1,100,000 science building are now under construction.

The roof of this building is a varied activity program—athletics, a lyceum series, societies and clubs with their diverse activities, religious programs of both worship and service. . . .

As you thumb through these pages you will be able to form a mental picture of the edifice we call Trevecca Nazarene College. We hope you will thrill with the vision.

The Greathouse Family

Dr. GREATHOUSE, when time permits, is always willing to sit down with students and talk about their many problems.

Honor Society

The Honor Society establishes the pattern for academic excellence on campus. Maintaining a grade average of 2.5 or higher, the members strive to inspire greater scholastic interest among their classmates. Activities sponsored by the society are for the purpose of honoring achievement and challenging underachievers.

Student Government

The Student Council, elected annually by the Student Body of Trevecca, meets weekly to discuss and act upon class and club activities and problems. The Stuco functions as the liason between students and faculty. Stuco sponsored the All-School project, was responsible for the Student-Leadership Conference, a lecture series, and the town meetings in which both student and faculty opinions could be voiced and discussed.

The End of Another Year

I was sitting at my desk in the DARDA office and began thinking of all the problems that have confronted my staff and me. I thought to myself, "Five photographers! I can't believe it." I didn't want to be too hard on them. They could have refused to climb on the roof of Trevecca Towers or stand in the middle of Murfreesboro Road during the morning rush hour. However, they managed to get the unusual in the darkroom...pictures...cropping...balance... in three inches, down two...no, down one...yes, that's more like it...looks good...only 80 more pages to layout...layouts...words...cutlines...copy... 'The absence of activity?'...no, 'The result of activity?'...Where is my dictionary and thesarus?...But we need proofs...proofs, wet ink...uh...what! No proofs? I can't get the sports proofs because I didn't meet the deadline? No, I need them today!...that should be Greathouse not Greenhouse. IT'S FINISHED...Hey, everything has been turned in. With all the work and some luck the DARDA should be good... working forty hours and going to classes plus being the editor...HELP...the book is ready for inspection? Man, it looks 'tough'...hey, staff, would you like to try again next year????

110 CHURCHES WITH 7259 NAZARENES WISH YOU WELL!

No one ever saw an acorn change into an oak—but everybody knows they do. It's because growth is a deep force within—that works wonderfully in unseen ways. And so it is with a church—its growth is not a new building or an enlarged staff, it is truth—and life—and peace—and joy—silently at work within the hearts of its people. We strive then for our church to be a place where people grow—from acorns into oaks.

TREVECCA TOWERS INCORPORATED

A Christian Retirement Center

The largest and most beautiful building in the Church of the Nazarene is a fifteen-story Christian Retirement Center sponsored by the College Hill Church of the Nazarene and located on Lester Avenue adjacent to Trevecca Nazarene College.

This two and one-half million dollar non-profit corporation is 100% financed by the Department of Housing and Urban Development at 3% interest and operated by a board of directors elected by the sponsoring church that has pledged to show a spiritual and moral concern for our senior citizens.

College Hill has prayed and worked hard to see this miracle in Christian ministry become a reality. The underlying motive and philosophy of Trevecca Towers is nothing more nor less than that illustrated in the parables of the Good Samaritan. So it is the responsibility of those whose lives are patterned after the One who "went about doing good" to do what we can to make life worth living for these worthy people who are a neglected and forgotten group, since they are forced to live on small and limited incomes.

In addition to the cultural and spiritual emphasis by the church, the management of Trevecca Towers will be responsible for all the maintenance and operation except the housekeeping inside the apartment. Monthly rent will include all costs, such as utilities, taxes, insurance, repairs, decorating, etc. Individually controlled heat and air-conditioning wall-to-wall carpets, large walk-in closets, stoves and refrigerators are some of the conveniences provided for at Trevecca Towers.

The business office, service desk, emergency call system, switchboard, mailboxes, and house phones are conveniently located on the main lobby floor near two large fully automatic elevators. One entire floor will be public area with several lounges, beauty and barber shoppes, commissary, hobby, craft and physical therapy rooms, etc.

Opportunities for service of every kind—proximity to the Church for security and atmosphere, and at rents you can afford to pay. The efficiency begins at $65.00 and the larger apartments at $90.00. The higher the floor there will be a slight increase in the rent.

Persons interested in living in this Christian environment may write Trevecca Towers, 60 Lester Avenue, Nashville, Tennessee 37210.

Congratulations Class of '68
